Dear Ms. Hesse:

I am writing to express my support for Microsoft case's settlement with the federal government. Considering the poor state of the economy, the last thing consumers need prolonged litigation resulting in additional oppression of the high tech industry.

Consumers, on the whole, were harmed by the case far more than they were ever harmed by the conduct described by it. It's been a long time since the high tech industry was truly free to compete and innovate without fear of repercussions from the government, but now that that time has come again. I believe we will see great results in short order that could turn this economy around.

Sincerely,

Sean Galvin
